Prominent Mason Dead.

Professor John Augustus Williams died Sunday morning, at his home in Harrodsburg. He was one of the most prominent Masons in Kentucky at one time holding the position of Grand Lecturer. He was a member of Ryan Commandary, No. 17.

Oysters Will Be Scarce.

An exchange says: The lovers of oysters should eat their share at once, for they are liable to find the delicious bivalves scarce and at a high price in a short time. Local dealers are in fear that there will be a great decrease in the quantity of oysters sent here this season, and are predicting that the supply will not be large enough to meet the demand of the people.

Hotel Changes Hands.

Judge Wm. Shugars will assume charge of the Mason Hotel this week. Mr. Simpson desiring to move to his property on Richmond street before cold weather. The Misses Shugars will give their entire attention to the management of the house, while the Judge and a clerk will look after the office. They have bought new furniture for the entire house, and will run a strictly first-class hotel.

Messrs. Howard Jolly, of the Rock Island, and F. C. Regan, of the Wabash railways, were here Friday in the interests of their splendid roads. Mr. Jolly is here frequently, and has made arrangements with Mr. J. E. Storms whereby anyone going West can get all information promptly, and learn in a few minutes exact cost of tickets to any point in the West, and over the best lines.

A Brilliant Wedding.

Danville Advocate:—The Nashville Banner of Nov. 5th, contains a lengthy account of the marriage of Miss Odile McCarthy and Mr. Stanley Dodd Pearce, formerly of this city. This marriage was one of the leading events of the season, and the descriptions of the handsome gowns and decorations required more than a column to describe it. Dr. E. H. Pearce, assisted by Dr. E. B. Chappell, performed the ceremony. Mr. E. L. Pearce, of this city, acted as best man. Among the out of town guests are mentioned, Dr. and Mrs. E. H. Pearce and Miss Lillian Pearce, of Danville.

Death of Judge Brown.

Judge Ephraim Brown, one of our most prominent citizens, age 85 years, died on Friday morning, after a lingering illness of several months. The remains were followed by many friends and relations to Lancaster Cemetery on Saturday afternoon, when interment took place, after a beautiful song service, and appropriate reading by the ministers of the city. He was a member of the Methodist church, and, in that, as in all the relations of life he was a positive character, never swerving from conclusions which he had reached. He served as City Judge for several years, and he discharged his duties fearlessly and faithfully in that, as in other places of public trust which were thrust upon him.

He left a widow and a number of children, who have grown to mature years, and who are doing their part in the great battle of life. The deceased had many noble traits of character, and he always advocated the cause of morality and the welfare of the community. The country would be better if we had more men of that kind. True, loyal, honest and very industrious—he was a model citizen.

We have received our fall and winter line of Queen Quality shoes.

Mr. Gaines Sells Livery.

Danville Advocate:—Mr. G. S. Gaines has sold his partnership in the livery firm of Gaines & Reid to Mr. J. T. Reid, the junior member. Mr. Gaines has not yet decided what business he will go into, but has had several fine offers from well known harvesting machine firms to travel in Kentucky. He will, however, continue to live in Danville. Mr. Reid will run the business at the old stand.

Ever Think of This?

The local newspapers may not agree with you in politics, in fact the editor may be a chump. Yet he must have a pretty good sized audience to talk to or he could not pay the printer. A word with him which you can get for ten cents a line, may be worth more than a page from a better man. He may reach the crowd you don't trade with. Your personal friends will likely come any way.

Owing to the Drouth.

One result of the drouth in Central Kentucky will be to reduce the number of lambs annually raised for market, says the Lexington Herald. It has been a custom hereabout for farmers to buy Tennessee and Indiana sheep in the fall to produce lambs. The lack of grazing has made it impracticable for this custom to be followed this season. On the contrary, farmers are forced to sell stock which, if kept, might bring higher prices later in the year. Cattle and hogs have been sold freely, the latter because of the shortage in the corn crop.

A Twentieth Anniversary.

Yates Centre (Kan) Advocate:—Years ago in old "Old Kentucky" a wedding took place, a part of the announcement of which read thus: "Married, Oct. 25th., at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. Tyra West, his beautiful and accomplished daughter, Lara, to Mr. J. I. Whitaker, one of Garrard's most worthy and enterprising sons, etc." Mr. and Mrs. Whitaker attended church last Sunday as usual and had just returned home, when 12 carriages full of people drove up and completely surprised them. Mrs. Whitaker was considerably flustered and wanted to try some more ham, but while she was receiving her guests the well filled baskets were carried into the dining room and dinner hastily prepared. When dinner was announced Rev. Slick invited the bride and groom of twenty years ago, their children and father and mother of the groom to the dining room and assigned them places at the table, and after the guests had gathered around the door, Mr. Slick requested the bride and groom join hands while he in a few impressive words spoke of their years of married life, their family, and offered the congratulations of the sixty friends and relatives present. They received a number of beautiful presents.

Col. Moore Shies His Castor.

In this issue of The Record will be found the announcement of Col. Dan L. Moore, of Mercer county. Col. Moore has entered the race for democratic nomination for Congress from this district. He is well known in Garrard and has many friends here. The Harrodsburg Democrat says: "It has been known for some time that Col. Moore would make the race, and his many friends are already in line for him, but out of regard for the best interests of the State and District Democratic tickets he has withheld his official announcement. During the campaign for the great Democratic victory of last Tuesday Col. Moore has worked faithfully and intelligently for the party, and the result is this county and in this judicial district is due more to him than to any other one man. But this is nothing new for him. In every fight for democracy during the last thirty years Col. Moore has given his means, time and talents most liberally for party success. He is a splendid gentleman of wealth and rare personal gifts, is an experienced and resourceful politician, and is one of the most popular men in Central Kentucky. His ambition to represent this district in Congress is a laudable one, and is not too much to say that his nomination is already assured. And his nomination means his election, for Col. Moore has never yet trailed the banner of Democracy in defeat. He is in the contest to win, and win he will."

Too Bad Sure.

The Calvert City Times says a girl at Banton played "post office" at a party one night and yelled and shrieked and howled and ran behind the door and scratched a young man's face in seven places, tipped over the lamp, cracked a crack in the piano and when at last the fellow kissed the tip of her pink ears she fainted dead away and said she would never love another man in the face again. They took the bashful, gentle, modest, sobbing thing home and put her to bed and the next day she eloped with a lightning rod peddler who had a hare lip and nine children.

Paint Lick Farm Sold.

Mr. Jas. A. Todd, of Paint Lick, sold the farm recently purchased of W. P. Anderson to Adrian Metcalfe, for $9,500, making a clear profit of $500 beside retelling the wheat crop. The farm is one of the best in that locality.

Is For Mort.

Stanford Journal:—Knowing ones say that Hon. J. Mort Rothwell will be master commissioner of Garrard under Judge W. C. Bell. The office couldn't be given to a better democrat and if it has to leave Mr. Jno W. Miller's hands we would like to see Mr. Rothwell get it.

If you wish a line established your way, whereby your mail will be delivered at your door, get several of your neighbors and come to the Lancaster post office at that time and you will receive all necessary information. It costs you nothing, and you had better come while the official is here, as he can give you all desired information.

Gov. Bradley Remains Ill.

The Record representative called to see Gov. Bradley at his home in Louisville, Saturday morning, and was delighted to find him much improved. The governor was stricken by fever some weeks ago, and, getting out of the house too soon, suffered a relapse. This proved quite serious for a time, but his physician has about pulled him over the dangerous period. He is suffering from kidney disease which causes more trouble than the fever, and is still confined to his bed. His many friends here sincerely trust he will soon be fully restored to health and strength.

Newspaper Men Meet.

The Executive Committee of the Kentucky Press Association at the Galt House, in Louisville, Friday, decided to hold the midwinter meeting in Louisville on December 11. It was also decided to have the next annual outing next year in St. Louis during the World's Fair when the dedication of the Kentucky building takes place. The exact date for this has not been settled upon, but it is thought that it will be on June 2, the anniversary of the day when ground was broken for the erection of the building. The decision will be left to Mr. A. Y. Ford, president of the Kentucky Exhibit Association, and to Mr. Paul M. Moore, president of the Kentucky Press Association. The next place of meeting of the association has been left open, to be decided upon later, but it will probably be held in Louisville. The committee appointed to arrange the programme for the midwinter meeting is composed of Harry A. Sommers, chairman; T. C. Underwood and R. W. Brown.

One of the interesting reports which will be presented will be that of the special committee, composed of Paul M. Moore, Louis Landrum, R. E. Morningstar and T. C. Underwood, who will go to St. Louis the first week in December and will complete arrangements for the hotel accommodations and courtesies, which will be extended to the members of the association when they visit the fair. By a unanimous vote, to invite Mr. Henry Waterson to be present and deliver a lecture at the December meeting. Mr. A. Y. Ford, president of the Kentucky Exhibit Association, will be heard from in regard to what remains to be done to assure a representation at St. Louis worthy of Kentucky and its resources. Still another report, which will be of interest, will be that of the Committee on Law, of which Mr. L. B. Brown is chairman.

Candy Pulling.
The candy pulling at the W. C. T. U. rooms has been postponed until Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Every body invited.

Announcement.

In this issue of The Record I announce my candidacy for Superintendent of Public Schools in Garrard Co. This may seem premature, but having been informed by our worthy incumbent that she will not be a candidate re-election, and it being necessary for me to teach the greater part of my time, I announce at this early date in order to reach all the people. Mrs. Maggie B. Gully. It

Leavell-Arnold.

On Wednesday Oct. 28 the many friends received quite a surprise on hearing of the marriage of Miss Minnie Arnold to Mr. Will K. Leavell. The happy couple drove to Paint Lick to the Presbyterian parsonage where they were married by Rev. F. Larson. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clay Arnold of this place and is a true Christian woman and loved by all who know her. The groom is a son of Mrs. Susie Leavell and is a prosperous farmer. His noble character has added to him many friends and is worthy of his charming bride he has just won. We wish him much success with no shadows to darken his pathway. ***

OBITUARY.

James L. Huffman, a popular farmer near Hubble, died on Sunday morning of blood poison, after his arm, which was mangled in a corn-shredder, had been amputated twice. He was held in high repute in that section and was a member of the Christian church at Hubble. Funeral services were conducted by Eld. F. M. Tindler, on Monday, at the residence of his father-in-law, Mr. John Spoonamore. He leaves two small children, his wife, having died a few years ago. He had $2,000 in the Aetna Life Insurance company on which he had paid only one year.

CENTRAL RECORD.

LOUIS LANDRAM.

Entered at the Post Office in Lancaster, Ky., as Second-Class Mail Matter.

Lancaster, Ky., November 13, 1903.

When it is definitely known that a party has won, it is amusing to see the great number of men who rush to the front and join the rejoicing, trying to appear that they did hard work, etc. The reason is they want some pie. We have had much experience in electioneering (we have repented and are in sack cloth and ashes, however) and know that to win a victory requires work, hard work, too. One must risk his life, make enemies, lose friends, and resort to most any old thing to pull his friend through. Now, we claim the men who buckle on the armor and fight should receive the reward. To the victors belong the spoils, not to a lot of hot-house plants, beardless boys or old fossils who could not gain a vote and we trust the newly elected officials will kick the pants of every fellow who "held hands off" and fill the place with a man who is willing to work for his party. And in this connection, it might be well enough for Mr. Roosevelt to look over his list of crib-feeders and see if they turned a hand to elect the republican ticket in this state.

The material value of independence to the United States may never have occurred to many, but it is an easy matter to determine. The United States and the Dominion of Canada are nearly equal in area and age yet in all other things this country is so far superior that a comparison is to be tabooed. The United States has a population of 75,000,000; Canada has about 5,000,000. Why should this be? What is the reason that this fair land of ours greatly surpasses the land to the north in size and numbers of its cities its internal and international business, its standing as a world power and so on? All this is very easy, we say, to explain. The reason thereof is given in a jiffy, thus: "We are a free and independent people." Citizens of this country should guard as sacred that freedom which means so much to them in material benefit and in personal rights and privileges.

Newspapers are always glad of a chance to print a thrust at the stingy selfish man, and many good things are given, but the best we have heard lately is that of an Irishman who had jumped into the water to save a man from drowning, and on receiving sixpence from the rescued miser, looked first at the sixpence and then at the man, saying, "Be jabbers, I am overpaid for that job."

The woman dean of Indiana University says there is too much fun and amusement in college life today to the detriment of the health and studies of the students. At least the world must agree with her that if some of the fun were cut out, the health of many students would be improved and an improvement in the lessons of many would be noted.

A doctor over in a certain town, when a patient refused his treatment, knocked the sick man down, and all but killed him. That was an outrage. If the M. D. desired to take his life, he should have been more humane that is, he should have pursued the regular course of treatment and the man would have died an easier death.

"A little enthusiasm greases one's elbows and lubricates the whole mental machinery," remarks the Milwaukee Sentinel. That may be true, but the danger is in getting too much "enthusiasm" which always goes to the legs, sometimes putting a fellow out of business for the time being.

For high-grade work requiring precision and excellence there is to be found in nearly every machine shop in Germany a group of American tools—a silent tribute to the remarkable position held in the world today by the American machine tool's work.

Some folks say that this weather, though pleasant, is not best for us because it is out of season. There is one advantage they have overlooked. It is the means of one forgetting to worry temporarily over an uncertain cold supply in the inevitable cold days to come.

One of the greatest pleasures in the close of the campaign is the disappearance of the cut-and-dried editorials some of the boys used. These windy articles are prepared at headquarters of the parties, proof sheets made and sent to the different papers.

Market reports say oysters will be very scarce this winter. Here is where the newspaper man finds comfort, in that it will not interfere with him in his hog and hominy. A poor man has lots to be thankful for.

Indianapolis is now wrestling with the question of betting money on horse races is gambling. In some places (St. Louis, for instance) it is and in others, Kentucky, it isn't.

A foreign author scores American women. That's because he doesn't know 'em, and, for the much better reason that he is out of reach of an American fist.

Kentucky Cured Hams and Shoulders.

The same old cry comes for this excellent recipe and method of curing bacon, etc., from the thrifty housewives, wishing it sent to their favorite home paper. This one wishes it sent to the Weekly Courier-Journal, and says she certainly will preserve it this time—cut it out and paste it in her recipe book. You certainly will be wise to do so. It reads thus: When the meat is taken up to be dried, I wash it in clean water as hot as I can bear my hands in, and while damp sprinkle powdered borax all over the flesh side every piece. Then you need have no further fear of insects, altho' my hams hung in the smokehouse until cured without even a sack on them. If the summer is very dry, I rewash and put more borax on in July and August. The taste of the meat is not injured. The bluegrass farmer says he has used this method for years. It is inexpensive and preserves the meat from taint. Each ham may be tied up in a canvas bag—or paper one. Shoulders may be cured in the same way.

There is no cough medicine so popular as Foley's Honey and Tar. It contains no opiates or poisons and never fails to cure. C C & J E Stormes. 1m Disastrous Wrecks.

Carelessness is responsible for many a railway wreck and the same causes are making human wrecks of sufferers from Throat and Lung troubles. But since the advent of Dr King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs, and Colds, even the worst cases can be cured, and hopeless resignation is no longer necessary. Mrs Lois Cragg, of Dorchester, Mass., is one of many whose life was saved by Dr King's New Discovery. This great remedy is guaranteed for all Throat and Lung diseases by McRoberts, Druggist. A Scientific Discovery.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure does for the stomach that which it is unable to do for itself, even when but slightly disordered or over-loaded. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure supplies the natural juices of digestion and does the work of the stomach, relaxing the nervous tension while the inflamed muscles of that organ are allowed to rest and heal. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat and enables the stomach and digestive organs to transform all food into rich, red blood. Sold by F P Frisbie. 1m Walker-Rav.?

Editor Record:—Fourth of the present month the writer was called by telephone from your town and asked to come to the Gover House in Crab Orchard, at 1 o'clock, p. m., to unite in holy bonds of matrimony, Mr Prentice Walker and Miss Lella Ray, both of the Buckeye neighborhood. Their attendants were Mr Charles Turner of Kirksville, and Miss Ray's sister. They were accompanied by Mr and Mrs Samuel Cotton, Mrs Cotton was the sister of the groom. Young Mr Walker is the son of Mr John Walker and wife, and Miss Ray is the second daughter of Mr B Ray. Her mother was uncle Wm Burton's daughter. The writer is personally acquainted with both their families, and thinks them to be among the most prominent of your county; and we know that young Walker is to be congratulated on the splendid choice he has made in choosing a partner for life—for Miss Ray is certainly one of the belles of Garrard county.

And now, Mr Editor, I wish through your paper to congratulate the parents of the bride and groom, for we believe their children have both married well, and to the bride and groom we say that their union may be as sweet and pleasant as the looked to be on the afternoon of the 4th of November 1903. Fraternally,

A. J. Pike.

Still at It.

The crop of fools is perennial. Droughts may cut down the yield of corn, chinch bugs and fly may destroy the wheat, floods may sweep over the land and take all vegetation before them, leaving the earth a desert in their track, famine may lay waste whole provinces, but the crop of gullible suckers falls never.

The gold brick man has been exposed a thousand times but the goldbrick business goes on just the same.

The ways of the bunco man are old and have been published almost ever since newspapers began to be printed and scattered among the reading public, but the bunco man is still doing business. The green goods swindler has been exposed times without number but every year thousands yield to the seductive offers of people traveling under aliases who propose to supply them with wealth for just a trifling expenditure of cash. Get rich schemes have caught the money of hundreds of thousands and the promoters' methods have been exposed and some of the promoters sent to jail, but other schemes just as unreasonable are started and find plenty of human fish to bite at the new bait, or rather the old bait cut in different sizes and shapes. Here is one of the latest advertisements sent out from New York:

"Have you five dollars? Do you wish to make them ten within a year and one thousand within a short time?"

This seductive proposition is a mining scheme which proposes to take the investor's five and kindly invest it for him and in a short time give back a thousand. And there is every reason to believe that this graft has gathered in its thousands of eager suckers, who if they were offered a chance to invest their money in some legitimate business enterprise which promises a fair return would not do it. They would rather put their hard earned cash into hands of some man they never saw and never will see, who promises to do something which all experiences has shown to be an impossibility, and in the face of the record which shows that the people who promise to do these things are invariably swindlers. —Merchants' Journal.

Millionaire's Poor Stomach.

The worn-out stomach of the overfed millionaire is often paraded in the public prints as a horrible example of the evil attendant on the possession of great wealth. But millionaires are not the only ones who are afflicted with bad stomachs. The proportion is far greater among the toilers. Dyspepsia and indigestion are rampant among these people, and they suffer far worse tortures than the millionaire unless they avail themselves of a standard medicine like Green's August Flower, which has been a favorite household remedy for all stomach troubles for over thirty-five years. August Flower rouses the torpid liver, thus creating appetite and insuring perfect digestion. It tones and vitalizes the entire system and makes life worth living, no matter what your station. A House.

Why is it that there are so many young men who dread matrimony? Is it that they cannot afford it, or is it that they are shy, or is it simply that the girl has not turned up yet?

The world is full of miserable old bachelors, who have taken so long to make up their minds to marry that when they do come to the point no girl wants them. They have grown so set in their cranky ways that they would make far from desirable husbands. There is no sight more forlorn than the old bachelor living in a boarding house or flat. No one cares for his coming or going, no heart beats quicker at the sound of his footsteps, no loving hand sews on buttons and keeps his belongings in order. His bureau drawers are chaotic collections of ties, handkerchiefs, theatre programs, photographs of the girls he has almost thought he loved, and dear knows what not. When he is ill he is dependent on friends and nurses for all the care he gets. There is no one to pull the blind to just the right angle, so that the light will not hurt the tired eyes; no one to stop the creaking door and smooth the tumbled bedclothes and know just when to speak and when to be silent. Poor, lonely, old bachelor. While he is young, and frolicsome he does not want to be tied down and so he thinks of course he'll marry some day, but he puts it off so long that he grows crusty and cranky and unattractive and hard to suit, and the first thing he knows he is a confirmed bachelor, unloving and unloved. In most cases there is a girl somewhere in the background who has eaten her heart out in silence, loving him and wondering why he did not propose to her after all his attention. How much happier would the old bachelor be had he married her. Instead of the lonely, selfish life he now leads, companionship and the tender, confiding touch of baby hand tugging at his heart strings would keep them tuned to sweetest music. —Henderson Gleaser.

A Policeman's Testimony.

J N Patterson, night policeman of Nashville, Ia., writes, "Last winter I had a bad cold on my lungs, and tried at least a half dozen advertised cough medicines and had treatment from two physicians without getting any benefit. Climatic Cures.

The influence of climatic conditions in the cure of consumption is very much overdrawn. The poor patient, and the rich patient, too, can do much better at home by proper attention to food digestion, and a regular use of German Syrup. Free expectoration in the morning is made certain by German Syrup, so is a good night's rest and the absence of that weakening cough and debilitating night sweat. Restless nights and the exhaustion due to coughing, the greatest danger and dread of the consumptive, can be prevented or stopped by taking German Syrup liberally and regularly. Should you be able to go to a warmer climate, you will find that of the thousands of consumptives there, the few who are benefited and regain strength are those who use German Syrup. A Chicago man has observed that, "Good deeds are better than real estate deeds—some of the latter are worthless. Act kindly and gently, show sympathy and lend a helping hand. No Man Is Stronger Than His Stomach

The statement that no man is stronger than his stomach will appeal to every man who has ever suffered from stomach trouble. He will remember the growing feeling of weakness until he was hardly able to crawl around, and could work only occasionally, and then with difficulty. The danger of dyspepsia roots in the fact that when disease attacks the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition the whole body must be the sufferer, for when the stomach is diseased and the digestive processes are imperfectly performed, there is a sure loss of nutrition which is felt by every organ of the body.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It makes strong men because it makes "strong" stomachs, and enables the proper digestion of food and the perfect assimilation of the nutrition contained in the food.

"I have taken six bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and four or five vials of the little 'Pellets,'" writes Mr. A. J. Vanderwater, of 873 West Division Street, Chicago, Ill. "I am happy to say they have done me worlds of good. These medicines have made a great change in me, from a slow mope of a man that could hardly crawl, tired and sick all the time, could do no work, to a man who can work, sleep, eat and feel fine, and that tired feeling all gone away. 'Golden Medical Discovery' and little 'Pellets' have almost made a new man of me. I feel young as I did at thirty years."

Accept no substitute for Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. There is nothing else "just as good" for disease of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition.

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, the best of modern medical works, is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 31 one-cent stamps for the cloth-bound volume, or only 21 stamps for the book in paper covers. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Twenty head of Shorthorns sold Saturday by C. E. Butler averaged $70 per head.

In Carroll, G. W. Deatherage turned his cattle in a tobacco patch and lost three fine cattle last week. It is thought from eating suckers.

It does not pay to keep a ewe after she begins to show signs of age, unless she is an especially good breeder and mother.

Johns. Weir, on Thursday morning, received of Chas. M. Fleming, Jr., 60 export steers, weighing 89,715, an average of 1,493. They were contracted for some time since at 5c. Mr. W. also received 16 from L. M. Goodman, averaging about 1,400, and seven from John Cullen, averaging 1,500. The slump in the price of hogs will prevent much corn being fed to them at present prices. New corn is starting off at 50c in the field for picked corn one sale of 400 bushels being made at that figure this week.—Flemingsburg Times-Democrat.

The attention of Secretary Wilson, of the Department of Agriculture, having been called to the extremely low price of tobacco, the Secretary made the following statement: "The trouble is, the farmers grow too much tobacco, whereas they should rotate their crops. If they would cultivate fewer acres and get a larger yield per acre, they would be more successful. That which they should do is to give more attention to the cow and cultivate the pastures. In that way they can build up and recuperate their lands. I learned when in Tennessee that the tobacco farmers do not derive as great a yield per acre of tobacco as they formerly did. The cultivation of the leaf year after year deteriorates the land."

C. H. Henry, of this county scattered 12 acres of hemp in sixteen hours last week. He is 28 years old and weighs only 165 pounds.

Will Write on "Fox-Hunting."

Col. Roger D. Williams, of Lexington, has received a request from Casper Whitney, editor of the American Sportsman Library, to write an article on "Fox-Hunting." Col. Isn't It Strange?

The individual who gets the fewest letters, says an exchange, makes the most complaints to the Postmaster: the man who never had a good meal at home scowls at the hotel accommodations; the person who complains most of his neighbors is the meanest of the lot; the member who pays the least to the preacher's salary finds the most fault at his preaching and complaints of the bad management of the church and the subscriber who is the slowest to pay his subscription finds the most fault with the local paper.

"The soul was never put into the body to stand still," are the words used by an exchange. At any rate they act as if they had no souls.

Clear Up.

Don't you be discouraged.
"Cause de clouds is black,
Sunshine is a-waitin'.
Folks in a-waitin'.
I've seen rain plenty.
Thought 'twould never quit
Thunderin' an' lightning—
But I ain't drowned yet.

When de snow storm's threatenin'
Don't you be afraid;
Spring will come as usual,
Sun'll be undimmed;
When the rose is bloomin'
You won't mind a bit,
I've seen a lot o' winter,
An' I ain't froze yet.

Cured of Piles After 10 Years.

Mr. C. H. Hane, of Geneva, O., had the piles for 40 years. Doctors and druggists could do him no lasting good. DeWitt's Hazel Salve cured him permanently. Invaluable for cuts, burns, bruises, sprains, lacerations, eczema, tetter, salt rheum, and all other skin diseases. Look for the name DeWitt on the packages—all others are cheap, worthless counterfeits. Sold by F. P. Frisbie.

FREE RECLINING CHAIRCARS.

"The Henderson"—Always First.

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 29, 1903.—The traveling public will be pleased to learn of the latest innovation in the way of comfort in travel for its patrons which is now being offered by that most popular railroad, The "Henderson Route," which road has been rightly termed the "Kentuckians Official Route to the West and Southwest."

It has just been announced from the general offices of the Louisville, Henderson & St. Louis Railway that they now have in service on their night trains between Louisville and St. Louis, Free Reclining Chair Cars, which have just been received from the shops and are a revelation in the car builder's art.

The cars are strictly up-to-date, first class "palaces of travel" on wheels, and this is only one of the many surprises which are promised the public for World's Fair travel by the Henderson Route.

Among other advantages offered in these highly finished cars, a few of the most important points only are mentioned.

They are solidly vestibuled and are furnished with sixty-four reclining chairs, which are upholstered in beautiful green plush, in addition to smoking and toilet rooms, the smoking rooms being finished throughout in leather. They are also fitted up with triple trucks, which feature will do away with the jerk, jar and strain incident to travel in the ordinary railway coach, and insures a smooth, comfortable ride. This should prove more than a popular feature in train service to the traveling public, and we can only suggest that in traveling you "get the Henderson Route" habit.

Doesn't Respect Old Age.

It's shameful when youth fails to show proper respect for old age, but just the contrary in the case of Dr. King's New Life Pills. They cut off maladies no matter how severe and irrespective of old age. Dyspepsia, Jaundice, Fever, Constipation all yield to this perfect Pill. 25c at McRobert's Drug Store.

He Learned a Great Truth.

It is said of John Wesley that he once said to Miss West: "Why do you tell that child the same thing over and over again?" "John Wesley, because once telling is not enough." It is for this same reason that you are told again and again that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy cures colds and grip; that it counteracts any tendency of these diseases to result in pneumonia, and that it is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by all druggists.

Prosperity tries the small man; adversity the great one.

Anxious Moments.

Some of the most anxious hours of a mother's life are those when the little ones of the household have the croup. There is no other medicine so effective in this terrible malady as Foley's Honey and Tar. It is a household favorite for throat and lung troubles, and it can be safely given. C. C. & J. Stormes.

READ THE EVIDENCES.

Mrs. Susan Lewton, of Malvern, Ohio, writes: "I had Rheumatism for one year, and a considerable portion of the time I was so bad I could scarcely walk. My ankle was so swollen a great deal of the time, I could scarcely get on my shoes. My limbs were numb and I suffered continually. I tried a great many remedies, but was unable to get relief, until I tried LIFE PLANT. I took four bottles and was entirely cured. It is a great remedy."

The Life Plant Co.

Dear Sir—I write this as an open letter, and for the benefit of those who are suffering with that painful disease, Rheumatism. I was afflicted with Rheumatism for several months, my hands were swollen so badly I could not close them, and most of the time I was confined to my room. I tried most everything that was prescribed or recommended to me. I was finally induced to try LIFE PLANT. After taking one bottle I was able to be around. I have up to this time taken three bottles, and I feel as well as I feel from Rheumatism as though I never had any. I am now in my 74th year and am able to do all my own work. Trusting that this letter of recommendation will induce some sufferers of Rheumatism to try LIFE PLANT (for it cannot be praised too highly) I remain yours truly,

Mrs. J. W. Williams, Waynesburg, O., March 7, 1902.

Mrs. Mary J. Smith, of Cambridge, O., says: I have been afflicted with Rheumatism for some time, located in different parts of the body. I was not able to get relief until I took LIFE PLANT. Two bottles did the work. I can heartily recommend it to all afflicted with Rheumatism.

Hon. H. H. Potter, New Philadelphia, Ohio, speaks in the following emphatic terms of the curative properties of LIFE PLANT: I have used LIFE PLANT as a family medicine for two years. I can heartily endorse it as a most valuable and remarkable remedy. In fact its use proves to be all that is claimed for it. It is truly a medicine of merit.

Get the BEST FIRST. LIFE PLANT is the best. Get it quick. Made by THE LIFE PLANT CO., Canton, Ohio.
